Plenty of such men can be had in for some months. London, and there application should be made. In the same manner we learn that the talent of the colony is to be drafted on for a manager. We do not suppose that any of the gentlemen who form the provisional committee over previbusly occupied such a position previously. Still they surely must understand the necessity of selecting as a manager a man whose experience and capacity for the business of banking will command respect, and whose position will reflect credit and add weight to the undertaking. It what we learn be true, the nominations are to be confined to a clique or a coterie whose public spirit has ever been at a severe discount, and whose claims on the public confidence are far from being generally admitted. We believe that 5,700 shares have been applied for by the community of this place, but we are aware that several parties hesitate to take shares until they see the nominations more judiciously disposed of. THERE is something intensely melancholy in the terrible disaster which has overtaken the Geneahr, family! It appears that the Revd. F. Genachr, of the Rhenish Missionary Society, has been dwelling with his family, consisting of a wife and five children, for some little time at a place called Ho-an, about filty English miles hence. It was, only on the Elst ulto, that Mr. Gennehr was delivered of a son. Cholera appears to be raging dreadfully at He an amongst the Chinese, and but for considerations of duty Mr. Gennehr would doubtles have removed.

On Sanday, last, the 7th insta the father and elft at son were attacked with this dreadful scourge. The boy died at a P.M. the father two hours after. On Tuesday the 9th ingt the second son was attacked, and followed his father and brother. The mor widow was cut off from all communication with Europeans, and the Chinese were so terrified that they could not be induced to render the smallest assistance in the interment of the hodies. The intelligence reaching the next station, a Gorman missionary set out with twenty converts and did all) that could be done. -. By last advices a third son had been at tacked and was not expected to live. The heroism of the poor widow, bereft of all aid whatever, guarding her infant family and the corpses of her husband and eldest boys, is indeed a picture which should excite admiration and pity in a stoic.
